COMMUNITY-ENGAGED
Learning and Teaching Fellowship

Join the 2019-2020 Community-Engaged Learning and Teaching Fellowship!

Through this interactive learning community, faculty participants will:

Learn about community-engaged principles, pedagogies, and practices

Cultivate mutually beneficial relationships with peers and community partners

Participate in critical dialogue about the nature of community engagement for social justice

Develop skills and tools for facilitating student reflection

Generate high-quality community-engaged learning opportunities for students

The cohort will meet:

OCT. to DEC.*
Wednesdays, 9:30 AM - 11:30 AM

* Three additional meetings will take place in spring.

Participants receive up to $1000

for completion of the program and creation or revision of a community-engaged course.

For more details about the program, and to register, please contact Star Plaxton-Moore at smoore3@usfca.edu.
