

Resources Sheet

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS)

www.usfca.edu/caps

(415) 422-6352 (415) 422-xxxx (24-hour)

CAPS is available to provide free short-term support. Common issues brought to counselors include loneliness, relationship concerns, depression, stress, sexual concerns, substance abuse, low self-esteem, and life transition concerns. If your student is 18 or older, all information is confidential. Although we cannot discuss specifics of therapy with family members, we are happy to consult if there are concerns regarding your student. If ongoing therapy would be helpful for your student, we can assist you in connecting with resources in the area.

The Office of the Dean of Students (DOS)

www.usfca.edu/studentlife

(415) 422-5330

The Office of the Dean of Students (DOS) serves as an advocate for students in areas pertaining to campus life. Responsibilities of this office include, but are not limited to, responding to the issues, concerns, and crises of students and families related to student development and success, and overseeing nonacademic student conduct disciplinary processes. Do not hesitate to contact DOS if you have any questions or concerns regarding campus life at USF..

Gender and Sexuality Center (GSC)

www.usfca.edu/gsc

(415) 422-4432

The GSC collaborates with campus community members to provide programs and resources focused on gender identity & expression, sexual orientation, and sexual violence prevention. The office provides community education and advocacy opportunities emphasizing a safe space to explore issues regarding identity, social justice, and equality.

Health Promotion Services (HPS)

www.usfca.edu/hps

(415) 422-5797

Our mission is enhancing quality of life by promoting wellness and fostering a safe campus community for student success. In collaboration with the USF community, Health Promotion Services staffs promote a culture of healthy lifestyles, reasonable health messages, harm reduction tips, and the development of a more humane and safer environment not only on campus but also in the world.

Student Housing and Residential Education (SHaRE)

www.usfca.edu/residence_life

(415) 422-6824

CAPS is available to provide free short-term support. Common issues brought to counselors include loneliness, relationship concerns, depression, stress, sexual concerns, substance abuse, low self-esteem, and life transition concerns. If your student is 18 or older, all information is confidential. Although we cannot discuss specifics of therapy with family members, we are happy to consult if there are concerns regarding your student. If ongoing therapy would be helpful for your student, we can assist you in connecting with resources in the area.

Department of Public Safety (DPS)

www.usfca.edu/public_safety

(415) 422-4222 (415) 422-2911 (24-hour)

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) works collaboratively with the USF community to proactively solve safety, parking, and transportation problems, and increase personal and institutional preparedness for natural and manmade disasters. DPS activities include, but are not limited to, the following: providing a safety escort at high-risk hours, providing 24-hour live public safety patrols across campus, and crisis response and reporting.

More Information

Title IX Compliance

The University of San Francisco is committed to providing an environment free from gender-based discrimination or harassment, which includes sexual assault, sexual harassment, and gender-based harassment. Anyone who believes they have been subjected to such discrimination or harassment is encouraged to report these incidents. Upon receiving a report, the university will respond promptly, equitably, and thoroughly. More information can be found at: myusf.usfca.edu/title-ix.

Students – Julie Orio, Vice Provost & Dean of Students, 415-422-2823

Think About It

Think About It is a requirement for all incoming students, and your student should complete it on their own before arriving at USF. They will receive an email invitation to begin the course in the coming weeks. Students who do not complete the first part of the course by the deadline will be fined $100.

Other workshops, programming, and events throughout the year offer opportunities for all students to learn about making healthy decisions and resources located both at USF and in the city of San Francisco. More information can be found at: myusf.usfca.edu/student-health-safety/hps/think-about-it/course.

Talk About It

Talk About It is a collection of complementary workshops, programs, and educational materials designed to engage and promote change among the entire USF community. Designed as a continuation of Think About It, Talk About It gets the word out on ways to maintain a safe and healthy campus culture.

Mandatory Reporting

Faculty, staff, and even some student employees (like RA's) are required to report sexual harassment and assault should they learn of it, and our Center for Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) offers confidential reporting and counseling for additional support. A 24-hour hotline for the confidential reporting of sexual assault is provided both here and during orientation and students may also report in person or online at: usfca.callistocampus.org.
