PRESIDENT

Ethan Lee-Bellows
Major: Psychology

The USF administration fails to advocate for us, acting only after realizing that their failure to listen to our pleading outcries will tarnish their image. If given the opportunity to serve you as your ASUSF President, I will ensure that ASUSF Senate cultivates empathetic and sustainable relationships with every campus voice. I will ensure we meet you where you are and empower you to get where you want to go. United, we can work to promote an equitable, transparent, and accountable USF. I’m fiercely committed to serving and centering every voice that has been cast aside. I will ensure the university stands by its Jesuit values, not because they fear their reputation is at stake, but because we will fight for and demand nothing less.

VICE PRESIDENT OF MARKETING & COMMUNICATIONS

Jasleen Dhillon
Major: Biology

Kind acts of service. It costs nothing to extend kindness, so why not spread positivity? In my previous role as Sikh student representative, I was privileged to represent an underrepresented community and I enjoyed every step of the way. At the university, I was able to accommodate practicing Sikhs, and Amridhari Sikhs to wear their Kirpan on campus. Holding this position has opened me to new perspectives on campus, which will not only allow me to bring more experience into this role but also to help foster a strong student body community. As the Vice President of Marketing and Communication, I would hope to use communication as a tool to strengthen the USFCA community and bring us closer together as I can. Being a minority student of color at a Jesuit university, I felt uncomfortable and uneasy at times, which is why I want to ensure that all students feel comfortable crafting their own community on campus. Within my role as VPMC, I would create more spaces of conversation for students, and create more transparency around university communications.
VICE PRESIDENT OF ADVOCACY

Akhnoor Sidhu

Major: Politics

New perspective. As the current Freshman Class Representative, I have had the honor of representing people from various communities and backgrounds. My work has included working alongside my peers to make a more inclusive campus as well as researching and working in a group to construct a mandatory Title IX Canvas Module Course to be implemented for the further safety and wellness of USF students. As the Vice President of Advocacy, I want to bring a new perspective and further my goal of inclusivity into the Senate and USF Committee. I will work hard not just with my fellow Executive members, but also with the Senators to provide more ways for students to be a part of the USF campus and safely take part in on-campus and off-campus activities. I will work alongside my peers to implement resolutions for the betterment of the USF community.

VICE PRESIDENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS

Ariana Anayat

Major: Economics and Philosophy

Three words: Accountability, Advocacy, Achievement. As your ASUSF Senate Vice President of Internal Affairs, I will continue to demonstrate my passion for community to further empower the USF community, from the inside out. Currently, I am your ASUSF Senate Title IX REPS Representative and I serve on the Internal Affairs Committee, where I have garnered experience with our student government and contributed to initiatives enacting positive change across the USF community. In the 2022-2023 academic year, even more areas of growth and development are ahead. Thank you Dons and I look forward to continuing to work for the betterment of our community!
VICE PRESIDENT OF FINANCE

Nadine Tabucao
Major: Economics

As the pandemic persists, I empathize with student organization leaders that are planning events and activities. I hope that through funding, we can restore and revitalize the vibrant spirit of USF’s student organizations. As a first-generation and female-identifying student of color, I intend to uplift student organizations that represent the diversity of our student body. In order to enact change abroad, we must start by empowering our USF community. I also aim to equitably support newer and smaller student organizations in order to jumpstart their journey. You can trust me as VP of Finance to EMPATHIZE with, EMPOWER, and EQUITABLY allocate funds to the student organizations that make our USF campus a vibrant and engaging community!

Sofia Sarwat
Major: Finance

No relevant project without funding. I will manage budgets with full transparency and fairness to ensure that all relevant initiatives can be carried out. I strongly believe in diversity, social justice and equal opportunities and will translate these principles into my management as the VP of Finance, by giving visibility to the decisions taken and ensuring a more equitable and just community.
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES REPRESENTATIVE

Elysia Teruya
Major: Biology
If I were allowed to serve as your ASUSF College of Arts and Science Representative, I would bring quality, experience, and honesty to our community. I care about our Art and Science school's standards and the goals we are all share, and with four years of experience being a part of a student senate, I will serve as an advocate for our school and help our needs be taken care of by USF's administration. I will research to be informed about ways to improve our school and provide resources for voices to be heard and action guaranteed. Put experience on your side.

SOPHMORE CLASS REPRESENTATIVE

Zoe Wang
Major: Psychology
As Sophomore Rep, I am someone you can always count on. I hope to bring more transparency to what is going on in USF, especially in matters such as allocation of budget, and what is being done to address student needs. Accessibility is also a need that must be addressed going forward. I aim to serve as a resource to all USF students if they ever have questions, concerns, or just someone to talk to. Through this position, I will do my utmost best to work towards solutions for individual and community needs on campus. I know many feel unheard at USF, I promise to act as a conduit for all concerns to make USF a safer, more inclusive, and just campus. I want every single student to know that their voices are heard and acknowledged. I WILL work with everyone to make USF a university to be proud of.
STUDENT OF COLOR REPRESENTATIVE

Angel Lopez

Major: Computer Science

Leading a food pantry for the youth in my hometown, I was disheartened to witness the racial divide that my city had in education and where its resources were distributed. This empowered me to advocate for Equity in the various school communities I grew from. With a firsthand account of how these choices impact our youth’s success and being selected as a fellow of Chicago’s Constructive Leadership of 2021, I aim to highlight opportunities for students of color to thrive and Empower them on their college journey. By listening with Empathy, I am determined to crumble the barriers often placed against our full potential. I hope you will give me the opportunity to show you my commitment by selecting me as ASUSF Student of Color Representative.

Referendum to Establish the Title IX Resource, Education, Prevention, and Support (REPS) Representative as an Official ASUSF Position

This referendum is to make one Title IX REPS (Resources, Education, Prevention, Support) Representative position a permanent position on ASUSF Senate. A permanent position would assist long term student representation in university decisions impacting students, especially with the increased need within the student body for this position after the release of the Hupat and Handler “Investigation Report Regarding Allegations of Sexual Misconduct Involving the University of San Francisco Men’s Soccer Team” in 2020. With the passage of this referendum, this position would eventually create more trust in the Title IX office and work to create a healthier campus culture around Title IX related issues. This proposal was approved by the Title IX Office and supported by the Deputy Title IX Coordinator.

I APPROVE to amend the ASUSF Senate Constitution to establish one Title IX REPS Representative position as voting members of the ASUSF Senate beginning the academic year of 2022-2023.

I DISAPPROVE to amend the ASUSF Senate Constitution to establish one Title IX REPS Representative position as voting members of the ASUSF Senate beginning the academic year of 2022-2023.
