

WEEKLY UPDATE – Oct. 5

The Learning, Writing, and Speaking Centers

While the University remains in an online format, the Learning, Writing, and Speaking Centers (LWSC) are open for students virtually. Their online services include peer tutoring, supplemental instruction sessions, peer led team learning sessions, academic skills coaching, writing center consultations, and speaking center appointments. Specifically, at the writing center, students can get assistance with all aspects of the writing process including generating and organizing ideas, editing grammar, and support with citations. Services are free and include subject-specific tutoring, writing assistance, and communication-related support. LWSC staff can be reached Monday through Friday between 8 a.m.–5 p.m. by email or through the chat feature on their webpages. Learn more about LWSC programs and services »

Academic English Support (AES)

The Learning, Writing, and Speaking Centers (LWSC) also offers Academic English Support (AES) tutoring. This program is a great opportunity for international students who desire assistance in developing study strategies or effective communication with professors. The sessions cover note taking, academic reading, test taking, time management, study strategies and more. You can make an appointment online and select "Academic English Support."
