

WEEKLY UPDATE – Nov. 9

Welcome to International Education Week!

This week is International Education Week (IEW)! The theme of IEW 2020 is Our Global Community and our goal is to come together virtually in celebration of different cultures, heritages, and experiences. We have created a media board that will allow you to add your location to our "global classroom," sign up and attend virtual events, advocate for international education, share your favorite international recipes, and more! We hope this extended time offers a space to promote a global perspective and highlight the diversity that strengthens our community. Navigate below to begin interacting with your peers and celebrating IEW!

US Presidential Election 2020

As election results come out, we know many of you have questions about what this means for you. This election has received a lot of attention not only in the U.S., but also around the world. For many of us in the U.S., this election is seen as a pivotal time and there will be lively discussion over the coming days and weeks. Different USF offices will provide workshops and events to support our students throughout this period. ISSS has also created an advocacy handout and will host a post-election support session on Thursday, Nov. 12 at 9 a.m. PST. No prior registration is required.
