Please see below for some additional USF resources and external events. Our campus resources, including the Bias Education and Response Team (BERT), are working together to address hate incidents and supports those individuals who have witnessed, or themselves have become a target of, an act of bias.

WITNESSED FEAR is offering two weekly bystander intervention trainings. These one-hour free bystander intervention and de-escalation trainings. These one-hour trainings will teach attendees five strategies for bystander intervention: distract, delegate, document, delay, and direct.

TheUSF Center for Diversity and Inclusion works in partnership with the Asian Pacific Islander, and Latino American Advancing Justice (AAJC) have partnered to adapt these programs and create the de-escalation trainings. These programs will be hybrid and take place in the university's classrooms or online in the Zoom format.

Asian Americans Advancing Justice
Asian Americans Advancing Justice (AAJC) is a national, 501(c)(3) non-profit organization dedicated to advancing the social and economic justice, civil rights, and political empowerment for Asian and Pacific Islander Americans. We work for justice for all communities of color, and for the fair treatment of all people.

When we talk about values at USF, what we’re really talking about is who we are and what’s important to us. The Jesuit hallmark of cura personalis, or care for the whole person, describes this value. This means the respect we have for each person’s intellectual, physical, and spiritual health.
