The Rules:
I suggest using online sources to reduce cost. Please let me know if you would like to purchase a supplemental text containing relevant ethics rules and I would be happy to suggest one. Links to the rules are available in the syllabus, which will be posted to Canvas the week before class. No need to review the rules before our first class unless you’d like to.

• First Assignment Instructions (all due by the first day of class):
  1. Please listen to The Buried Bodies Case episode of the Radiolab podcast linked below. Don’t do any legal or factual research beyond the podcast; just come prepared to discuss your instincts and intuitions about what you’d do if you were Frank Armani. https://www.wnycstudios.org/podcasts/radiolab/articles/the_buried_bodies_case
  2. Read pages 1-17 of the Textbook.
  3. Complete the short introductory survey on Canvas and come prepared to share your answers in small groups. The course Canvas page will be posted the week before class.
Additional Notes:

Welcome to the class! I’m looking forward to working with each of you this semester.
