

Operating Budget for Fiscal Year 2022

For Consideration by the Board of Trustees
March 26, 2021

Executive Overview

Purpose of Report

The purpose of this report is to review the fiscal year 2022 operating budget of the University of San Francisco and to recommend its approval by the Board of Trustees. The Center for Institutional Planning and Effectiveness (CIPE) prepared this report and the budget therein in consultation with the executive officers of the University, its Leadership Team, and the University Budget Advisory Council (UBAC).

The report outlines budgeted revenue and expense categories and details the spending plan for fiscal year 2022 using updated enrollment targets and projections (as of March 1, 2021) and revenue forecasts, along with the Board's approved tuition and fee rates.

Recommendation

The proposed fiscal year 2022 unrestricted operating budget was approved by the President on March 5, 2021. The President recommends that the Board of Trustees approves the proposed fiscal year 2022 unrestricted operating budget.

Process

Vice presidents approve unit plans, contractual increases, and planned reductions or changes, which are presented for discussion and prioritization at the University Budget Advisory Council, Leadership Team and Cabinet meetings. The President makes final funding decisions in consultation with the Provost.

The School of Law develops its own budget, which is reviewed by Law faculty and administrators under separate funding policies. The Provost also reviews and approves this budget. The School of Law budget is included in this report as it is incorporated into the University's overall proposed fiscal year 2022 operating plan.

- For FY 2022, the incremental expense budgets enumerated in the table above will be funded by reallocation of budgetary resources within the Division of Academic Affairs rather than through the creation of new expense budgets.
- Reallocation will be achieved by cleaning up budgets associated with programs or cohorts that have been suspended or that have seen material declines in enrollment.
- These new academic programs, launched over the past five years, are projected to contribute $22,064,000 in net tuition (tuition net scholarships, and also net any Pearson Embanet revenue share).
- Law revenues increase by $66,000. Its net expenses decrease by $3.8 million. FY 2022 now sees a Law operating contribution of $3.8 million, a stark increase from the $0 in operating contribution budgeted for FY 2021.
- Student housing revenue increases by $6.0 million, with accompanying expense increases of $1.7 million. Dedicated reserves for student housing revenue are budgeted at $996,000 (3.0% of student housing revenue), an increase of $180,000 over its base budget of $816,000 in FY 2021. In support of the new Lone Mountain East residence hall, the debt servicing budget increases $7.1 million.

FY 2022 Unrestricted Operating Budget Creation Process Goal

The primary goals of the budget creation process are (1) to align college-, school-, and division-level goals and activities with the vision, mission, and strategic priorities of the University and (2) to promote innovation that is reflected in both new academic programs and enrollment growth in existing academic offerings. While collecting and reviewing requests for new budget allocations, we strongly encourage academic and service units to fund reconfigured programs and required new costs through budget reallocation.

FY 2022 Unrestricted Operating Budget Creation Process Highlights

- Non-tuition revenue items were identified by the responsible managers and reviewed by the vice presidents, University Budget Advisory Council, Cabinet, the Provost, and the President.
- Additional revenue and expense budget requests were submitted through the University's online tool, Budget Assist, for consideration by unit and division leaders, as well as the University Budget Advisory Council, with ultimate funding decisions made by the President and the Provost.
- New capital requests were reviewed by the University Budget Advisory Council, Cabinet members, the Provost, and the President.
- Employee compensation was determined by contractual (or anticipated contractual) obligations with bargaining units, as well as the President's directives concerning compensation for exempt staff and executives.
- Tuition revenue budgets were based on enrollment targets and projections (supplied by the Division of Academic Affairs), as well as Board-approved tuition rates. The Board of Trustees also approved the aforementioned enrollment targets and projections at its winter meeting.
- Institutional financial aid expenses were based on a combination of historical, forecasted, and targeted discount rates.

Across the University

The $470.0 million operating budget for FY 2022 is based on the University's plan to welcome 9,941 continuing and new students across all of its campuses. Compared to the current fiscal year's base budget (including savings identified in order to balance the current fiscal year's placeholder budget), FY 2022 revenue is expected to decrease $19.1 million from FY 2021 revenue due to enrollment composition, rate increases associated with tuition and housing, and adjustments to fees, investment returns, auxiliary and other revenue budgets.

Revenue

Tuition revenue (net of tuition exceptions) is budgeted to decrease by $23.0 million. Fee revenue budgets reflect the adjustment of housing and health clinic fees. The current investment returns budget decreases on account of lower returns on the university's cash holdings. Planned changes to auxiliary revenue reflect a 0.9% room rate increase and the addition of beds in the new Lone Mountain East residence hall. Food service revenue is planned to be flat due to a volume adjustment. Decreases to other revenues include adjustments from the University's housing and Law.

Financial Aid Expense

Institutional financial aid is a combination of merit awards and need-based aid. Unfunded financial aid budgets will decrease, in aggregate, by 4.9%. This decrease will account for the University's recent and planned enrollment composition and discounting practices.

Other Expenses

General operating, facilities, and capital expenditure budgets will collectively see a decrease in their levels, as will total compensation. Insurance premium budgets increase, as does debt service to support interest payments for Lone Mountain East. Please refer to pages 15 and 16 for details.

Revenue Changes

- The Division of Academic Affairs decrease is due to enrollment projections as of March 1, 2021, adjusted by tuition increases approved by the Board of Trustees in December 2020.
- The Division of Business & Finance decrease is due to lower interest income on the university's cash holdings, as well as lower summer auxiliary operations.
- Athletics decrease is due to lower auxiliary ticket sales.
- The Student Life net increase is due to a student housing revenue increase, including additional beds in Lone Mountain East.

Expense Changes

- Expense budgets in functional areas see changes due to OPE and engineer compensation increases, planning priorities, as well as new academic programs.
- The Academic Affairs net decrease includes reductions for Law budget, Presidio facilities, tuition share, scholarship, and faculty compensation increase pool reductions.
- The Office of Marketing Communications includes funding for a media and crisis communications consultant.
- The Business and Finance increase includes support budgets for Lone Mountain East (staff, facilities, debt interest) as well as for university insurance premiums.
- The Athletics increase includes additional financial aid.
- The Student Life net increase includes additional funding for student housing, Title IX staff positions, a contractual increase as well as support for the Black Achievement, Success and Engagement Program.
- The Information Technology Services increase includes support budgets for Lone Mountain East.
- Institutional Support net increase includes an increase to the University's operating reserves, student staff and minimum wage compensation increases, as well as a holding budget of approximately $18.1 million for anticipated savings.

FY 2022 Changes in Expense Budgets

*Note: Gen Ops Facilities Capital includes a decrease for anticipated savings of $18.158 million.

Changes in Expense Budgets

Highlighted changes are from the University's current FY 2021 base budget. While we highlight proposed changes to the FY 2022 operating budget resulting from planning efforts, changes from the FY 2021 base budget also include management adjustments made within the fiscal year.

Total Compensation

Employee compensation constitutes approximately 51.7% of budgeted expenses in FY 2022. This category includes salaries for executive, professional and administrative staff; full- and part-time faculty; student employees; and statutory and employee benefit expenses, such as retirement savings contributions, tuition remission, health insurance, etc. Changes by category of compensation are on the next page and include both new academic program plans, as well as the clearing of FY 2021 compensation increase budgets. The non-Law staff compensation increase pool is within the unit of Institutional Support. The non-Law faculty compensation increase pool is within the Division of Academic Affairs. Remaining FY 2021 compensation increase budgets not applied will be zeroed out and there are no compensation increase pool budgets in the FY 2022 budget.

General Operating/Facilities/Capital

This category includes office supplies and equipment, leases, consumable goods and services, building operational costs, janitorial and utility charges, furniture, library holdings, and most scientific equipment. The net decrease of $17.1 million includes a decrease for anticipated savings of $18.1 million, increases for planning priorities of $1.1 million, housing increases of $807K, decreased revenue share payments of $503K, a decrease of $453K for the salvage of the Presidio campus' facilities lease budgets, a $241K increase for the conversion of two staff positions (one in the Office of Marketing Communications and the other in Development) to temporary budgets, and a net decrease of $226K for Law.

Financial Aid

The $6.1 million decrease in financial aid accounts for a decrease of $3.6 million in undergraduate budgets supporting current financial aid practices. Law decreases its operating financial aid funding by $2.8 million. Other non-Law graduate financial aid increases $107K, and housing financial aid increases by $218K.

Food Service, Insurance/Collections/Bad Debt/Loans and Debt Service

Food Service remains at its current budget due to a volume adjustment. Debt Service increases by $7.1 million to budget debt interest payments for Lone Mountain East. The Insurance/Collections/Bad Debt/Loans category increase by $1.0 million to fund university insurance premium increases.

Reserves and Transfers In

Reserves are designated for unexpected variations in revenues or expenses. The University will increase its operating reserves by approximately $1.7 million. The resulting level will represent approximately 2.0% of operating revenue budgets. Law's budget removes a Transfers In target from restricted resources of $319K.

Changes in Compensation Budgets

Faculty

Tenured, probationary, and term full-time faculty salaries for FY 2022 reflect the removal of two lines with the Provost to help internally fund new academic programs (see page four), reductions made within the School of Law, as well as the clearing of FY 2021 compensation increase budgets. Part-time faculty salary budget includes the reversal of FY 2021 compensation increases, an increased budget for the School of Law, and incremental support for new academic programs.

Staff

Staff salaries for FY 2022 reflect the clearing of FY 2021 compensation increase budgets. New academic program adjustments include a net additional 0.3 FTE in staff support positions. Planning priorities result in the funding of an additional 9.25 FTE in staff positions. These include five positions to support new dining and housing facilities in FY 2022: a gardener, a laborer, and three facilities engineers. New planning priorities also include a deputy Title IX coordinator and a sexual violence resource advocate. New planning priorities for the School of Nursing and Health Professions include two simulation lab technicians and a 0.25 FTE increase for an operations analyst. Housing plans include one residence hall director in support of Lone Mountain East and 0.4 FTE increase for an assistant dean.

Student Staff

Student employment provides an opportunity for students to gain work experience and earn wages to support the cost of attending the University. It is also viewed as an effective use of University resources. For FY 2022, student worker compensation pools see increases due to wage laws, as well as planned incremental activity in new academic programs. Housing plans an increase in student worker compensation in support of Lone Mountain East.

Benefits

Benefits are budgeted at supporting rates for the University's differing salary categories for employees. Adjustments to benefits budgets are made in proportion to budget changes taking place in different salary categories.

Appendix: Historical Analysis

Revenue

Tuition and fees make up 88.8% of the gross revenue in the FY 2022 operating budget. What follows is a review of the three main factors that influence the University's revenue: enrollment, tuition rates and financial aid.

Enrollment in Student Credit Hours (FY 2012 - FY 2022)

Year	Total SCH	% Change	10-year % Change
FY 2012 Actual	269,454	3.8%
FY 2013 Actual	278,528	3.4%
FY 2014 Actual	283,286	1.7%

FY 2021 Census	269,344	-7.3%
FY 2022 Budget	262,785	-2.4%	-2.5%

Tuition and Fee Income

Planned tuition and fee revenue increases because enrollment projections and/or tuition rates increase. The FY 2022 budget anticipates that tuition (net of tuition exceptions) and fee revenue will decrease by 0.3%. Tuition and fees constitute 88.8% of the FY 2022 gross revenue budget.

Financial Aid

Over the ten-year analysis period, expenditures for University-funded financial aid have increased 95.6%, in contrast with a tuition and fee cumulative increase of 34.7%. As a percentage of tuition, aggregate financial aid has grown from 19.9% to a budgeted 28.6% during this same ten-year period.

The pressure to increase funding for financial aid comes from reduced support from government sources, as well as from the institution's attempt to use financial aid to recruit students for their academic ability, athletic talent, and ethnic and economic diversity. Financial aid awarded is a balance of merit- and need-based aid.

There is $118.3 million in aggregate unrestricted financial aid in the FY 2022 operating budget.

Tuition and Fee Rates

Our pricing strategy of generally lower-than-average tuition increases is in response to an important shift in demographics and has been amplified by the so-called “Great Recession” of 2007-2010. This changing economic context provides the University with an opportunity to adapt and strengthen the University in a way that is consistent with our mission and long-term aspirations, as expressed in USF 2028. As a result, the University is making far-reaching structural adjustments — which include enhancing faculty and staff productivity — so that we may continue to offer a high-quality Jesuit education.

Looking at the University’s ten-year tuition and fee history, rates have increased within a range of 2.9% to 4.6% per year over the last ten years. Consistent with private higher education trends, tuition rates have historically increased several percentage points above inflation rates. We are striving to maintain quality in our programs, while keeping our tuition charges at levels consistent with our cross-applicant competitor set of schools. There is strong political and social pressure to control the growth of higher education costs. The University is responding to this pressure by systemically reviewing new initiatives in the context of new and reallocated funds. Reacting to limited tuition rate increases has led to targeted efforts to reallocate budgets to meet emerging needs.

West Coast Conference Tuition & Fees per Semester Rate (FY2012 - FY2021)

Tuition and Fee Comparison

The University competes with other schools for students, and prospective students pay attention to tuition and fee rates. The table below reflects the historical cost of undergraduate tuition and fees at our peer institutions, and the University's relative position in the list. Recommendations for tuition rates are prepared after examining the University's relative price position with comparable institutions, its projected enrollment, and the impact of alternative rate increases on the entire University operating budget. In our comparison of tuition and fees, the average undergraduate tuition and fees per semester for West Coast Conference colleges and universities increased by 3.2% in FY 2021. USF increased undergraduate tuition and fees by 4.4% in FY 2021.

Endowment (FY 2019)

Among other forms of support, a healthy endowment provides a source of funding for university scholarships. In fiscal year 2019 (the latest available data), the average (excluding USF) endowment income (EI) per enrolled full-time equivalent (FTE) of the universities included in the comparison below was $2,754. USF's EI/FTE is below this average at $1,520.

Expenses

The following appendices address the major areas of the University's expense budget, including employee compensation.

Compensation

The Office of the Provost and the deans track the balance between full- and part-time faculty members; faculty teaching, research, and service workloads; and faculty-to-student ratios.

The University is continually making a concerted effort to focus its personnel costs on areas that provide consistently high levels of academic excellence and service quality. In concert with institutional planning, and through the annual budgeting process, new and reallocated funds are directed towards these activities.

Benefits Expense

Benefits are shown in relation to University salary expense and total expense. USF charges benefits to departments based on salary expense.
