Are you interested in applying to a doctoral program in clinical psychology?

If so, we encourage you to consider our program.

Our program emphasizes the scientist-practitioner model and features:

- Opportunities to work with faculty on research in areas such as anxiety, assessment, bilingualism, bipolar, human development, culture, depression, families, memory, mindfulness, immigrant mental health, neuroscience, policy, prevention, psychotherapy, suicide, and virtual reality

- Clinical training with faculty who are leaders in research and practice

- Training opportunities in individual therapy, family therapy, and assessment (including bilingual assessment), and with diverse clients in local sites including hospitals, schools, university counseling centers, and community mental health centers

- An elective focus in Children, Families, and Cultures

- A green campus in the heart of Washington, D.C. Take advantage of the Metro stop on campus to visit the White House, Capitol, and national museums in less than 15 minutes!

- APA-accredited since 1948

- Committed to cultural and individual differences and diversity in its training and students

Please click here to access our webpage.

We look forward to hearing from you! Feel free to contact any of the faculty with any questions, including the Director of Clinical Training: Sandra Barrueco, Ph.D. (barrueco@cua.edu)

The Catholic University of America admits students of any race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, age, religion, or disability.

Questions related to the program’s accredited status should be directed to the Commission on Accreditation: Office of Program Consultation and Accreditation American Psychological Association 750 1st Street, NE, Washington, DC 20002 Phone: (202) 336-5979 / E-mail: apaaccred@apa.org Web: www.apa.org/ed/accreditation