THE ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT PRESENTS:

MS IDEC ORAL DEFENSE PRESENTATIONS

2021 MS IDEC Theses Defenses – Students in the Master of Science in International and Development Economics present the results of their fieldwork and defend their theses. Our projects showcase the research frontier in development economics.

THURSDAY, MAY 13, 2021
1:00-4:00 PM (PST)
LOCATION: ZOOM

1:00 PM
Presenter: Nettie Silvernale
Topic: Do Conditional Cash Transfers Increase School Enrollment? Evidence from Brazil

Presenter: Devaprasad Sahadevan
Topic: Transitioning into Retirement: Effect of Pension Expansion on Elderly Labour Force Participation in India

Presenter: Rajshri Suresh
Topic: Temperature Effects on STI Prevalence and Symptoms in a Population of at-risk Female-sex Workers in India

2:00 PM
Presenter: Scott Barger
Topic: Police Union Membership and Lethal Use of Force

Presenter: Mai Moua
Topic: The Impact of Child Sponsorship Letters on Educational and Psychological Outcomes

Presenter: Sahiba Chopra
(Graduate Student in MS in Applied Economics)

3:00 PM
Presenter: Supriya Adhikari
Topic: Does Having the Option to Cooperate Increase Competition Among Women: Evidence from Nepal

Presenter: Firuzjon Khayrulloev
Topic: Gender Differences in Risk, Social, and Competitive Preferences: Experimental Evidence from Uzbekistan

Presenter: Fiona Onyango
Topic: The Gendered Impact of Droughts on Household Decision Making in Uganda

4:00 PM
Presenter: Yibekal Abebe Tessema
Topic: The Role of Learning Styles in the Adoption of Index Insurance

Contact for Questions: msantana2@usfca.edu